FOUR ARE INJURED IN AUTO COLLISION

ACCIDENT OCCURS SATURDAY NIGHT NEAR OSBORN FARM.

THIK ALL MAY RECOVER

Thomas Sherlock in Hospital With Concussion of Brain—Kent Coulter Driving Other Car.

Thomas Sherlock is in the St. Francis hospital today suffering from concussion of the brain and a severe eye injury as a result of an automobile collission late Saturday night between a Ford touring car and a Ford roadster. Joseph Sherlock is also suffering from a broken collar bone and Ralph and Maurice Sherlock are badly bruised as a result of the accident. Attending physicians believe all will recover.

The four Sherlock brothers were driving three-quarters of a mile north of the Bovard corner when they met the roadster. It is reported that the latter had but one dim light and that it was not visible at a great distance. The smash occurred directly in front of the home of Will Osborn. Both cars were wrecked, the touring car getting the worst of the deal.

The four brothers were returning home from Maryville and the occupants of the other car were supposedly joy riding.

When the cars collided Joseph Sherlock was pinned under the touring car.

None of the occupants of the roadster were injured beyond a few minor scratches. The roadster was driven by Kent Coulter of Bedison. Other occupants of the car were Irvin Belcher, Rosy Anderson and Hazel Lauber.

BEARCAT BASKET SEASON OPEN WITH PARK COLLEGE TONIGHT

Two Years Ago Presbyterians Beat S. T. C. In Extra Five Minute Period of Play

The State Teachers College basketball season will open tonight at the College when the Bearcats will play their first game with the Park College quintet from Parkville, Mo. The game does not count on conference standing. The game will start at 7:30 o'clock.

E. W. Atkinson of the State Teachers College faculty will officiate.

Coach Maynor said this morning that he was not certain who the lucky five would be, to start the game. He has a problem to pick from his squad of twelve men the five who will be on the floor when the referee blows his whistle for the start of the game.

The game tonight is the first that has been played with the Presbyterians since two years ago. That game will not soon be forgotten. The visitors came to Maryville, looked upon as second raters, and proceeded to take a game away f omrthe Bearcats after Coach Rice's men had seemingly tucked it away. Five minutes of extra play were required for the game.

A return game will be played with Park on February 3. The Bearcats go to Springfield for a two game series with the Teachers and with Drury and on the way back they will stop off at Parkville to try and annex another scalp.

In speaking of the condition of his team, Coach Maynor said, "The men have made splendid progress since they returned from the Christmas holidays. They are much better than they were then but they are far from the form which I expect of them. They haven't got the pass down yet and until they do they won't be in the right form."

"I do not know who will make the team. It will be the men who can handle the pass best. I would rather have a man that can work the ball down the field than one who can shoot."

The Park College team arrived in Maryville on the noon Burlington train. Seven men made the trip. They were in charge of Peak, the captain.

This game will be the second for the visitors. Last Saturday they lost in a game with the Kansas City Junior College by a 37 to 17 score.

The men who made the trip to Maryville are Captain Peak, Peeke, Morris, Ennis, Crop, Fishburn, and Dallam.

FIRE EQUIPMENT CITY NOW STANDARD

WORK WAS COMPLETED AT NOON TODAY.

78 STANDARD HYDRANTS

Maryville Is One of Eight Missouri Cities to Be O. K.'d by U. S. Board of Standards.

Maryville is now up to standard in respect to her fire department. For the past three days A. J. Settles of Hannibal, a representative of the Missouri Insurance Inspection department, has been working on the hose and hydrants of the department. He completed his work today at noon.

Maryville now has seventy-eight standard hydrants and 1350 feet of hose which are standard.

The work of standardizing fire departments has been going on in the East for the past five or six years. It has been going on in Missouri for the past nine months. Seventy per cent of the towns in the state can be standardized. Twenty-eight towns in Northwest Missouri have fire equipment that can be brought up to standard.

By doing this it is possible for the equipment of one town to be used in another and it also facilitates the ordering of fire equipment. Usually when fire equipment is ordered it must be returned and adjusted before it will fit the hydrants. Under the system of standardization the ordering will be easy and always the equipment will fit.

The cities in Missouri which have been standardized are: St. Charles, Paris, Fayette, Glasgow, Jefferson City, Webster Grove, Cape Girardeau and Maryville. Work will be begun in Springfield next.

The system of standardization has been approved by the United States Board of Standards.

9 COLLEGES QUIT THE M. I. A. ASSN.

AND FORM ANOTHER CONFERENCE CALLED M. C. A. UNION

LEAVE STATE SCHOOLS

Coach Maynor Makes Statement In Regard to Split of Denominational Schools from Association

The Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association, instead of being composed of fifteen schools, is now made up of the five state teachers colleges and the School of Mines at Rolla. This is a result of a meeting of the nine denominational schools of the association, which was held at Moberly Saturday. At this meeting these schools decided to withdraw from the M. I. A. A. and to form a separate organization which will be called the Missouri Collegiate Athletic union.

The members of the union do not wish to sever relations with the state institutions and will continue to compete with them but the games will not be conference contests. The schedules which are already made will be played.

The split in the association leaves the local college with only four conference games out of sixteen. Kirksville will be met twice and Warrensburg and Springfield are also on the schedule. The other twelve games are with members of the new Athletic union.

In a statement in regard to the split, Coach Maynor of the State Teachers College said, "As I see it these colleges have everything to win and nothing to lose. They still retain membership in the M. I. A. A. but they have their own union too. If they win their games from the state colleges and from the colleges in their own organization then they are champions of both. If they lose to the state colleges and win their games in the College Union, then they are the champions of the union.

"Action will probably be taken by the officials of the teachers colleges and the School of Mines, toward the forming of a new and separate organization, although nothing has been done yet.

"I don't see how this change affects the State Teachers College at all."

The following article, clipped from the Kansas City Star gives a brief account of the matter:

"By a vote of 8 to 1 the nine colleges of the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association voted here Saturday to withdraw and form a separate body from the normal schools. The new body has been christened the Missouri College Athletic Union.

"The storm, which has disrupted this conference, formed eight years ago, has been brewing under cover ever since the annual meeting held in St. Louis December 2, at which time the nine coaches were asked to acquaint themselves of the faulty feeling toward such a move. The move was not made without strenuous protest from two schools, Culver-Stockton and Central Colleges. However, the former, when the vote was called, answered 'yes,' while Central college promised whole-hearted support to the new body.

"Discord between the college and normal schools of the now scattered M. I. A. A., is based on the fact that all of the advantage in athletic competition lies with the normal schools. It was brought out at the meeting that the standards of athletics do not run along parallel lines.

"The nine schools that now form the Missouri College Athletic Union are William Jewell, Central College, Central Wesleyan, Drury College, Tarkio College, Missouri Valley, Westminster, Culver-Stockton and Missouri Wesleyan."

ECONOMY PROGRAM FOR THE STATE

WHITECOTTON'S BILLS WILL HIT AT TEACHERS, TOO

WOULD AFFECT SALARIES

Of Circuit Judges, County Superintendents, Prosecuting Attorneys And Others

Jefferson City, Jan. 8.—An economy program will be introduced in the fifty-second general assembly by Representative Whitecotton of Monroe County. These bills affect state capitol clerks and stenographers, circuit judges, prosecuting attorneys, teachers and county superintendents of schools. Whitecotton intends to find a way to curb the teachers' syndicate and to reduce school taxes.

Whitecotton is a lawyer at Paris and is engaged also in the farm loan business. He has been one of the leaders in advocating reduced taxes for farmers and may be named chairman of the house committee on agriculture.

"The farmers are in serious plight," Whitecotton said, in discussing his economy measures. "They must have food and clothing if it is necessary to nail up every school house in the state. The schools took nearly half of the 71 million dollars collected in local and county taxes.

"The teachers' syndicate," Whitecotton continued, "which is clamoring for higher salaries, must be curbed, and I think this legislature will do it. The teachers now get more than many professional persons."

The salaries of the county superintendents in average counties of the state range from $1,050 to about $2,000.

Whitecotton said he believed $700 a year should be lopped from the salary of circuit judges. He said judges had little to do since prohibition. The reduction to be asked in prosecutor's salaries probably will be about 25 per cent, Whitecotton said.

When Whitecotton's economy program is in full swing in the legislature, it is expected public officials and educators will fill the hotel lobbies, here and possibly, obstruct pedestrian traffic on High street, leading to the capitol.

Bales too, for Economy.

Whitecotton and D. L. Bales, Democratic floor leader, have been working together on another economy program aimed at capitol clerks and stenographers. They have been going through the official blue book to learn the number of employees in each department and their salaries. It is understood stenographers that should receive $1,200 a year are classified as clerks in order to get in the $2,400 a-year class. Whitecotton said their bill should save the state about $50,000 a year.

The Whitecotton economy program aims also at abolishing the state tax commission, which was given $60,000 by the legislature of 1921; the state capitol decoration commission, which was appropriated $300,000 two years ago for interior decorations and paintings, and the capitol commission, which was given $100,000 to improve the capitol grounds. The Monroe County legislator also would abolish the state hotel inspection department.

Several bills have been prepared by other legislators to abolish the public service commission. The Whitecotton program merely would reduce the salaries of employees of the commission, not abolish it.

TO PROVE KLAN'S PART IN MURDERS

BLACK CAPS OF MOB TO BE IDENTIFIED AS K. K. K. REGALIA.

4 MEMBERS ARE KNOWN

Authorities Prepared to Arrest in Mer Rouge Murders—Immunity for a State's Witness.

Bastrop, Jan. 8.—Beginning tomorrow the state will produce evidence involving the Ku Klux Klan in the "hooded murder," it was said today. This will be accomplished through witness who will testify that the members of the mob were in the regular garb of the Klan.

A number of witnesses will be produced to show that the Klan in Morehouse Parish always wore black hooded caps on whipping expeditions. Witnesses will also testify that they were the same caps as worn by the Klan prior to the murders when these two men were warned to stop their opposition to the Klan.

Bastrop, Jan. 8—Four active members of the "hooded mob" which brutally murdered Watt Daniels and Thomas Richards of Mer Rouge, after barbariously torturing them, have been identified by the department of justice agents, it was learned authoritively today. The four are under constant surveillance by the department's agents and arrests will be made soon.

A mass of evidence has been gathered by the agents from every quarter involving these men in the fiendish crime and the federal officers are now closing all loopholes, through which the men might escape by legal technicalities.

When this is completed the hand will fall. These arrests will be the signal for additional arrests as they are necessary. Others will be arrested charged with complicity in the crime. Complete immunity will be granted to the first member of the mob who confesses to his part of the crime. The decision to offer complete immunity for states evidence was decided at a conference between Attorney-General Coco, head of the state prosecutors and department of justice agents.

The possibility of an early confession loomed strong today. During the "holiday" in the open hearing which adjourned until Tuesday, the prosecution was using it to farther arrange their case.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION TAKEN FROM HANDS OF SUPT. C. A. LEE.

As Democrat Comes in Office He Finds That Republicans Have Schemed to Limit His Power.

Jefferson City, Jan. 8.—When state superintendent of schools, Charles A. Lee of Butler, assumed his official duties today, he learned that the vocational education department had been removed from his jurisdiction. It was also learned that the state board composed of Governor Hyde, Secretary Becker, Attorney-General Barrett, and Sam Baker, who retired today had elected Geo. W. Reevis as state vocational director. Lee is a Democrat and believed that he should be allowed to name the head of the vocational department.

He said that he would probably ask fo rthe resignation of Reevis and if it was not forthcoming he would start legal proceeding to get possession of the department. Should he gain possession, it would mean a complete change in the personnel of the department.

OREGON STATE IS WITNESSING BIGGEST FLOOD SINCE 1890

Four to Six Inches of Rain Has Fallen and Damage Now is Estimated at $250,000

Portland, Ore., Jan. 8—Oregon is recovering from the worst flood it has seen since 1890. Lands have been inundated, farmhouses carried away and business houses toppled. Business is at a standstill in many towns and the loss is estimated at $250,000. Torential rains poured down melting the snow on the hill-tops and swelling small streams into surging cataracts. East and west bound trains have been held up for hours and all trains to California are delayed. From four to six inches of rain has fallen throughout the state.

The Willamette River has risen to a stage of 20.8 feet—five foot above the flood stage.

SCREENING PARTY TO BE HELD SOON

FIRST SHOWING OF NODAWAY COUNTY SCHOOL FILMS

THURSDAY JANUARY 18

"And the Truth Shall Make You Free" Is Title of Film—Other Educators May Be Here

A "screening party" will be given at the First Christian Church, Thursday evening January 18 at 7:45 o'clock according to an announcement today by County Superintendent L. G. Somerville. This party will be the first showing of the Nodaway County school films, which have been in the making for the past four months. The picture has been named, "And the Truth Shall Make You Free." It is an educational film of over 4000 feet showing the activities of the schools in the county.

In addition to the showing of the films at this "screening party," there will be a program, the details of which will be announced later. An admission fee will be charged at this entertainment, the proceeds of which will go to make up the deficit in taking the moving pictures of the flats on Nodaway County Rural Day. These pictures, however, will be shown at various schools and community meetings over the county free of charge.

It is probable that several county superintendents and some state educational officials will be invited to the first showing and probably have a part on the program.

RUHR OCCUPATION PLAN HITS A SNAG

FRANCE WOULD WELCOME U. S. ECONOMIC INTERVENTION

MARSHAL FOCH A SNAG

Military Authority Declares That "Ruhr Basin Will Occupy You" In Expressing His Disapproval

Bulletin

Coblenz, Jan. 8—Transports of freight cars carrying French soldiers passed through Coblenz this afternoon enroute to Dusseldorf. All of the cars were sealed.

Paris, Jan. 8—Copyright 1923, International News Service). Hasty and vigorous plans for the military occupation of the German Ruhr Basin by French troops, has placed the cabinet in a perplexing situation, it was learned from an authoritative source today.

The ministers had hoped that the threatened French occupation would bring intervention and objection from the German Industrials, Great Britain or the United States. This hope, however, has not been realized.

While France has declared publicly that she intends to occupy the Ruhr Basin and military plans are being made to that effect, there is still a possible hope that such an act can be averted. This hope, however, is a slender one.

Cabinet officials have stated that American intervention would be most welcome so long as it would be economic and not political. France, it was declared, would be pleased if Wall Street would give assurance that the French budget of 1924 would be met, to obviate the necessity of a capital levy.

Marshal Foch is now the chief thorn in the cabinet's side. It was generally believed that Foch favored the military occupation of the Ruhr, but it is said that he now openly opposes such action.

"France has everything to gain and nothing to lose," the advocates of occupation say. But Foch says, "You think you will occupy the Ruhr Basin, but you will find that the Ruhr Basin will occupy you."

THE TAKING OF INVENTORIES

The early part of January is a period business firms generally use for making inventory. For many concerns that are operating on a close margin it may be an anxious time, and they proceed with some misgivings to total up the figures that will show whether a year's toil has brought gain or loss.

Inventories sometimes reveal startling results. Where concerns have a lot of money locked up in material and merchandise, it is not possible to tell whether it is making money except through the figures of a carefully taken inventory. A few cents lost all along the way may mean that a business that had seemed profitable is operating at a loss.

Considering the marked advance in commercial activity during the past six months, it can reasonably be hoped that the inventories of 1923 will be more satisfactory than those taken a year ago.

ENCOURAGING HOME TALENT

In many towns people get along with but a few high class entertainments, concerts and lectures, or they pay high prices to people who come a long distance, when there are right in those communities some who are finely trained artists, or could give interesting lectures and talks. Not many communities appreciate at its full worth the home talent they have in their own circles or near by.

Communities should study their own resources and bring out some of those quiet people who do not boom themselves at all, yet who have talent. The old saying is always true that no prophet is without honor save in his own country.

SPEEDING UP CONGRESS

Various changes are suggested in the system of federal elections, concerning which there will be differences of opinion. But one of these proposals ought to appeal to almost everybody, to the effect that the new Congress should meet and begin work early in January following the election in November. If this were done it would seem logical that the presidential term should begin at the same time instead of in March.

The existing system by which a Congress does not meet until 13 months after it is elected, unless called in extra session, might have been well enough in days before railroads and steamships, but it is archaic now. The time between the election of a congress and the date when it takes office is a "between hay and grass" period when little business is usually done.

The American people want action and achievement. Allowing an interval of four to 13 months to intervene between an election and the time when the new officials go to work, is a pretty poor way to get things done.

INFORMATION FROM WASHINGTON ABOUT FILING INCOME TAX.

Information of interest to the public who are required to make income tax returns has been given out by Noah Crooks, Collector of Internal Revenue for the Sixth District of Missouri. This territory takes in the 61 western counties of the state.

Mr. Crooks will begin the release of Forms 1040 A, individual tax returns for net incomes of less than $5,000 for the 1922 period on January 2, 1923; one of these returns will be mailed to each person who filed a similar one last year, on or about January 15, 1923. The public who are liable for returns and who do not receive one through the mail before February 1, may obtain a blank by writing the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue at Kansas City, Mo.

It is the desire of Mr. Crooks that attention be directed to the fact that every single person having a net income of $1,000, every married person having a net income of $2,000, and every individual whose gross income is $5,000, is required by law to file an income tax return. There seems to be an impression among many persons that because of personal exemptions exceeding their net income they are not required to file income tax returns—this is not true and the Internal Revenue Laws provide severe penalties for failure to file income tax returns even though the return discloses no tax due.

Deputy collectors will be assigned to visit all county seat towns and others supporting a bank, to assist the public in making out and filing returns, their itinerary will be published about February 1, 1923. This service is free and if in doubt about tax liability the public is requested to see and advise with these men.

Corporation, partnership and large form individual returns will be released as soon as received from Washington, notice of their release will be given out in due time.

Returns should be placed in the mail so they will reach the Collector's office on or before March 15, after which date they become delinquent. Mailing returns on March 15 is not sufficient.

All taxable returns must be accompanied by a remittance in the amount of the tax, or at least one-fourth thereof.

Five Room House Occupied by Harry Hale and Family Is Burned Down Yesterday Afternoon.

Fire yesterday afternoon, which started from a defective flue, destroyed the five room frame house on the farm of R. G. Gex, Sr., near Graham. The house was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hale and two children, who discovered the fire while eating dinner, between 1:30 and 2 o'clock. Because of the headway which it had gained when discovered it was impossible for the bucket brigade to check the flames. Anthony Gex was burned about the hands while assisting in removing furniture from the first story. The bedding and clothing on the second floor was destroyed (and only part of the contents downstairs were saved. There was $500 insurance on the house which will cover only part of the loss.

SHOULD NOT REGULATE TEACHING OF EVOLUTION

Scientists Term Legislative Interference "Profound Mistake."

Washington, Jan. 6.—(Capital News Service).—The Council for the American Association for the Advancement of Science, meeting at Cambridge, Mass., adopted a resolution, prepared by three foremost authorities in the field of evolution—Dr. Edwin Grant Conklin, professor of zoology, Princeton; Dr. Henry Fairfield Osborn, president American Museum of Natural History; and Dr. Charles B. Davenport, director, department of genetics, Carnegie Institution.

The council affirmed that: "So far as the scientific evidence of the evolution of plants and animals and man are concerned, there is no gound what-ever for the assertion that these evidences constitute a "mere guess." No scientific generalization is more strongly supported by thoroughly tested evidences than is that of organic evolution.

"The evidences in favor of the evolution of man are sufficient to convince every scientist of note in the world. These evidences are increasing in number and importance every year.

"The theory of evolution is one of the most potent of the great influences for good that have thus far entered into human experience; it has promoted the progress of knowledge, it has fostered unprejudiced inquiry, and it has served as an invaluable aid in humanity's search for truth in man fields."

The council stated that "any legislation attempting to limit the teaching of any scientific doctrine so well established and so widely accepted by specialists, as is the doctrine of evolution, would be a profound mistake, which could not fail to injure and retard the advancement of knowledge and of human welfare by denying the freedom of teaching and inquiry which is essential to all progress."

January Farm Notes.

At this time it pays to watch the hogs for lice and nits. Frequent changing of bedding and sprinkling with disinfectant is usually effective.

In animals, as in people, the period of close confinement breeds disease. The liberal use of lime around the dairy and "hennery" will contribute to good health.

There can be hardly any excuse, aside from the weather, for any farmer, whether rich or poor, having less fruit than he needs for his own family at least.

Meat scrap can take the place of insects to a large extent, but poultry enjoy fresh meat far more. For this reason a bone cutter pays. It converts a waste into a very appetizing food and an essential to successful egg production.

If there is saw timber on the farm, now is a good time to get a few logs to the mill. Boards are nearly always scarce and repairs to buildings and fences are often neglected because lumber is not available. A little forethought now avoids this.

While it pays to stick to the tried and proved varieties of grain and vegetables, it also pays to be on the lookout for new things, making tests of them in a limited way. Remember that there was once a time when tomatoes were considered poison and when grape fruit was unknown.

If you have a piece of ground covered with thickets or briars and bushes, or infested with weeds and are thinking of clearing it up, figure on buying a dozen or so of sheep instaad of hiring a man. They will work twelve hours every day, Sunday included, and pay you for the privilege.

Every year we read the suggestion to plan the garden on paper before planting. Yet few do it. January is an excellent time to make such a diagram, and thus to have an idea of exactly what is to be planted and where. It makes the difference between haphazard and systematic gardening.

The greatest profit in poultry fries comes from having them ready for market in May when prices are usually twice and sometimes three times as high as in June and July. So if there is a warm shed for the young ones, it pays to start the incubator this month. But it doesn't pay to start it if the chicks will have to shiver in the cold.—Farm Life.

Meditations Of A "Setting" Hen

People say I'm independent. Well, if I want to set, I'm going to and nobody can change my mind.

Men are so rough. They come and yank me off my nest like I was a necessary evil. I think I have a right to fly back at them sometimes.

I like women best. They come and pet me and lift me off my nest gently that I wish I could thank them for it.

I haven't much use for an old hen that wants to set all the time. Twice is enough. I know one hen in the flock that set all last summer and started out bright and early again this spring. If the boss was onto his job he'd make a chicken dinner out of her.

Wonder why all the hens peck at me when I ruffle up and go out into the yard to get a breath of fresh air.

I hate incubators. They are going to rob us of all our chicks and before long we won't have any excuse for setting. People must think we don't want to be mothers.

I'm getting awful thin. People think we don't need much when we are setting all the time, so they throw in only a little ear of corn and the rats get the most of it.

I wish somebody would invent a real-for-sure lice killer. I don't want anythink to do with any quack stuff. —Farm Life.

SAYS WOMAN VOTE MAKES NO CHANGE

Even Liquor Issue Not Visibly Affected, Says Ohio State University Professor.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 8.—Advent of the woman voter has not changed political conditions, according to Professor Walter J. Shepard, department of political science, Ohio State University.

"There is little or no preceptible difference evident so far in the character of the vote since the advent of the woman suffrage amendment," declared Professor Shepard.

"Women do not vote differently from men, as they are subject to practically the same influences as are the men. They divide the issues along lines similar to the males," he continued.

"Even on the liquor issue the expected did not happen. In Illinois, where it was possible to tabulate the women's vote, woman suffrage did not work to the advantage of the dry cause, at least to the extent that had been expected," said Professor Shepard.

Fair Exchange

The man with the long beard and the man with the two wooden legs were engaged in some sort of dicker.

"Whatcha doing?" asked an inquisitive stranger, of the bearded man.

"Trading that legless feller my Christmas slippers for his Christmas neckties." —Farm Life.

MANY MERELY WATING for RIGHT MATE, SAYS MARRIAGE CLUB'S HEAD

Elyria, Ohio, Jan. 8.—Many pathetic stories are related by the "lonely" in their correspondence addressed to Nell Brooks Stull, organizer of the Widow and Widowers' Club here.

This correspondence, Mrs. Stull said, discloses that many persons, of both sexes, are "just waiting for the right one to cross their pathway."

The club, which has 20 local members, with applications for membership on file from residents of many sections of the country, has been instrumental in members making new "acquaintances." These friendships in a number of instances, it is predicted, will result in marriages soon.

ALLEGED SLAYER OF MEXICAN ARRAIGNED.

St. Joseph Gazette.

Jesse W. Smith, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Frank Dicnioz, a Mexican, who was struck by an automobile Dec. 27 at Sixth and Maple streets, was ordered held for preliminary hearing next Friday following his arraignment before Justice Wyatt Saturday. Smith was released on $2,000 bond. He denies all knowledge of the accident.

Smith, who is employed at the Rock Island shops, eloped from Bedford, Ia., with a high school girl several weeks ago. Produce Review

All of us know of the finger-print of detecting criminals. Now comes the nose-print for dairy cows. The nose print scheme is being worked out by the Division of Dairy Husbandry in Minnesota with every prospect of success. Some such plan has been needed as a protection in the matter of registration and selling of high-priced animals, and in conducting official milk tests over a period of months.

The Scientific American is authority for the statement that nose-prints of more than 350 animals have been taken and that so far no two have been found to be sufficiently alike to cause any uncertainty as to the animal from which they came.

Cream receipts are showing a gradual increase, but prices for butter and butterfat show little change. A further marked increase in production would probably result in lower values.

The inspection of butter in the leading markets of the country discloses quite a range in the quality, and consequent lower values on the butter that does not score "92 Extras" or "90 Standards." Lowered selling values mean reduced return to the producer. Greater care of the cream on the farm and more frequent deliveries would enable manufacturers to make better butter and increases returns to the producers.

More fresh eggs are reaching the larger markets, due to favorable producing weather. The receipts have met with a good demand, with prices ruling higher than a week ago. The values are likely to fluctuate from day to day, depending on the available supply and demand. Cold storage warehouses report larger holdings of eggs than at this time a year ago.

Receipts of live poultry have been lighter during the week with some advance in prices in Chicago and New York. A full supply of dressed poultry has been available; in fact, Government reports of December 30 to January 4 inclusive, show that over 9,000,000 pounds of dressed poultry were placed in storage in Chicago, New York, Boston and Philadelphia, and markets are closing with a liberal carry-over for current use. It is at such times that the value of modern cold storage space is made apparent.

This large amount of poultry, if forced on the market, would have meant ruinous prices to the producers now, and later would have resulted in actual shortage and extremely high prices to the consumer.

The relation between the live and dressed markets will probably adjust itself satisfactorily in the next week or ten days.

If the movement of live poultry is no heavier than at present, slightly higher prices may reasonably be expected to prevail.

CLYDE PERKINS IS THE BIG MAN NOW AT JEFFERSON CTIY

Kansas City Times Says Barnard Man Displaces Speaker Oak Hunter With His 274 Pounds

(From K. C. Times)

Jefferson City, Jan. 8.—The lid on legislative expenditures is to be held down tight. Clyde Perkins, formerly a restuarant man of Barnard, weight 475 pounds, has been employed by the house as accountant for Representative Job's committee on accounts. A special resolution was necessary to add him to the payroll as the one hundred and twenty third employee. In the recent Nodaway County Democratic primaries he ran for county recorder, but was too slow. That is why he is here.

Immediately after his arrival Perkins was picked out by the appraising eye of "Senator" Tom Shepherd of Kansas City, who because of the unpopular sumptuary laws has dwindled to 240 pounds. According to the "senator," the new employee confided he was off feed, but as soon as he picked up about fifty pounds would be ready to sit down on all payroll padding. The "senator" and Speaker Oak Hunter, weight 274 pounds, who have held the title heretofore as the two "big men of the legislature," declare that Perkins's arrival causes them to be completely overshadowed.

Perkins has moved from the hotel to a boarding house. His salary is $5 a day.

CHARGES AGAINST SHER. ROBB ARE DROPPED IN DES MOINES.

Judge Says They Were a Farce—Others Indicted for $30,000 Booze Robbery.

Des Moines, Jan. 8.—Charges filed by William McMurray, formerly Polk County jailer, against ex-sheriff W. E. Robb in connection with the theft of grand jury exhibits from the county jail were dismissed Saturday by Municipal Judge J. E. Mershon.

"This is a farce; the case is dismissed," declared the judge.

Dismissal of the charges against the ex-sheriff and army chaplain is believed to be the end of the case so far as Robb is concerned.

Since the charges against Robb were filed Everett McMurray and Clyde McMurray, sons of William McMurray, have been indicted by the grand jury in connection with the theft of liquor worth $30,000 from the county jail the night of December 27. McMurray accused Robb of disposing of the liquor.
